SCHENCE'S SEA WEED TONIC.—In the atmosphere experienced here during the summer months, the lethary produced by the heat, takes the desire for wholesome food, and frequent perspirations reduce bodily energy, particularly those suffering from the effects of debilitating diseases. In order to keep a natural healthful activity of the system, we must resort to artificial means. For this purpose Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic is very effectual. A few doses will create an appetite and give fresh vigor to the energated body. For dyspepsia, it is invaluable. Many eminent physicians have doubted whether dyspepsia can be permanently cured by the drugs which are generally employed for the purpose. The Sea Weed Tonic in its nature is totally different from such drugs. It contains no corrosive minerals or acids; in fact it assists the regular operations of nature

It contains no corrosive minerals or acids; in fact it assists the regular operations of nature, and supplies her deficiencies. The tonic in its nature so much resembles the gastric juice that it is almost identical with that fluid. The gastric juice is the natural solvent which, in a healthy condition of the body, causes the food to be digested; and when this juice is not excreted in sufficient quantities, indigestion, with all jits distressing symptoms, follows. The Sea Weed Tonic performs the duty of the gastric juice when the latter is deficient. Schenck's Sea Weed Tonic sold by all Druggists.

City Attorney:
TREASURY DEPARTMENT, OFFICE OF SUPERVISING ARCHITECT,
July 7, 1874.

Hon. S. B. Spencer, Atlanta, Ga.:
DEAR Sir.—Acknowledging the receipt of yours of the 4th instant enclosing a copy of a resolution passed by your city authorities, and of your very complimentary invitation. I have to say that it is impossible for me to take any steps in the matter until the questions of the site are fully and definitely settled and the title approved by the Attorney General. You may rest assured that I will do all in my power to insure an early completion of the work, and that it will be commenced at the earliest possible moment. You are of the work, and that it will be commenced at the earliest possible moment. You are well aware, however, of the extraordinary pressure of business on this office, and that it is impossible for me to commence any new buildings until the drawings for those now in progress are more nearly completed than at present. I may add that the completion of the building will not be hastened a single day by fits premature commencement. On the contrary, much money will be wasted in salaries and contingent expenses by so doing. I am desirous that Atlanta shall have a building that will be entirely worthy of its future, and satisfactory to your citizens, but it will require strict economy to accomplish the object. Please say to your citizens that work will be commenced at the carillest possible moment.

Very respectfully, yours,

A. B. MULLETT,
Supervising Architect.

Supervising Architect.

Passenger Line via Charleston.

We call the attention of our readers to the advertisement of this line, which appears in this morning's Constitution. It offers a speedy, pleasant and safe trip to New York. The steamers are all first-class and elegant, while close connections are made by the Georgia and South Carolina Railroads. Passengers by this route are now offered tickets to and return from Atlanta to New York for $39. They will find the officers and conductors on this line reliable and courteous gentlemen. With the inducements it offers this line cannot fail to have an immense patronage.

Temperance.

Editors Constitution: Please allow me, through THE CONSTITUTION, to say a word or two in making nominations for the different offices. If the votes of the temperance men are desired, men must be nominated who are not in the habit of drinking too much. The Good Templars are almost a legion in this district, and as a body we will not vote for a drankard, nor do we wish to vote for a moderate dram drinker, for they are the ones that make the drunkards and do the most harm.

Mr. McConnell. In an article which appeared in Sunday's Constitution, relative to the arrest of certain parties in Covington for being Ku-Klux, Captain McMcConnell is charged with being the author of the arrest. This arose from an error of our compositors. Capt. McConnell had no part in the arrest alluded to. The warrant was sworn out by a negro, Simon Hardeman.

Miss Lilie Johnson, of Cartersville, read a composition. She concluded with a most beautiful tribute to Lee.

Last but not last came the sole representative of your great city, Miss Beatrice Bacon. She read a medley. This production was out of the regular routine of college compositions, and possessed a sparkle of wit and humor that made it take finely. We but speak the general sentiment when we say that Atlanta was acell represented by this charming young lady. The compositions were all good, and the readers were, without exception, heard in every part of the hall, a thing that rarely occurs at a female commencement. The reading was interspersed with veral fine instrumental pieces and

She was followed by Miss Eunice Goode, of Georgetown, who read a witty production of Saxe, called "Pyramus and Thisbe." She reads clearly and so distinctly as to be heard in every part of

The two pieces are finely suited for reading, and it is difficult to decide which was rendered best.

Miss Mary Lou Little then sang that sweet Scotch ballad, "Within a Mile of Edinboro Town." She is gifted with one of the finest voices we have ever heard, and it has evidently been well cultivated. In all her performances she displays a most refreshing naturalness.

Miss Anna Smith read "Mr. Crane's Visit." She thoroughly understands the rendition of backwoods lingo. Miss Lillian Roberts, of Macon, displayed fine enunciation in the reading of Tennyson's "Lady Clare." Miss Leila Burke then sang "Auld Robin Gray." Miss Mollie Pou, of Madison, recited "Mabel." She exhibited a thorough appreciation of the heaving of this tempting in the reading of the pounciation in the horses. What became of them we did not learn.

The load of empty boxes on the wagon belonged to Mr. Lewis Clark. When the last box had been put on the wagon, the driver got on the top of it and told his horses to "git up." They did get up, and what is more, they didn't come down in ten feet. Then there was a fearful interminging on the ground of empty boxes and driver, but no team. The horses went down Alabama street, and not remove the wagon across the Macon Railroad. A Constitution Reporter tried to a feet shows there was considerable metal in the horses. SENIOR CLASS—FIRST SECTION.

The graduating classes of the College are always so large that it would be impossible for them all to read in one day. Sometimes the number is so large as to require three days. This morning the first section of the senior class read. The chaptel was densely packed. After the performance of "Welcome Home March," and "Tanhauser," Miss Belle Wight, of your city, read the salutatory. She shares the second honor of her class, and is noted for her fine attainments and lady-like accomplishment. Her salutatory was replete with thought, and was clothed in the most SENIOR CLASS-FIRST SECTION.

Dr. Myers, after the reading was concluded, announced that Mr. Van Epps, of Atlanta, who was expected to deliver the annual address, was detained at home by sickness. He stated that Mr. N. A. Harris, of Macon, had been chosen to fill the place, and it was due to him to state that he had only half a day's notice. Mr. Harris arose amid loud applause. He announced as his theme, "Southern Women." He described our land as the most lovely under the sun, our men as the most chivalric that breathe, and of course our women as the most charming course our women as the most charming creatures over whom the planets shine. He said that Southern woman was the incarnation of the beauty of our clime. Every land has its style of beauty; the daughters of the South combine the excellence of all. He spoke in high terms of the untiring devotion of Southern women in our struggle for independence; how she en-couraged drooping valor, when the strug-gle was hot; and how she displayed the gre was not; and now she displayed the grandeur of her nature in the hour of defeat and gloom. The world does not furnish her equal. He exhorted the young ladies of the college to be true Southern women, and to let their highest ambition be to tread in their mothers' footsteps. The address was brief, and was listened to with interest by the audience. ed to with interest by the audience. And they further agreed that there is more good land in this American Paradise, the great desert that was only read about a few years ago, than all the farmers in Georgia, and perhaps the South, could cultivate. The land is very productive, making fabulous yields in corn, wheat and other grain. Hay is the natural production, and a man may soon realize a fortune by industriously cutting and sowing the great Nebraska staple.

I AM engaged in the manufacture of the Celebrated Family Medicine, known as the Calhoun Liver and Anti-Bilious Pills, ollowing standard the supervision and assistance of Dr. Calhoun himself. This Pill has been in use for the last 35 years, and has taken precedence over all other Family preparations by all that have used them. Thousands would certify to their great value if necessary. One fact should supercede any amount of certificates, and that fact is this: Dr. Calhoun has been physician to the Fulton County Prison cates, and that fact is this: Dr. Camouh has been physician to the Fulton County Prison for over seven years, when the number of prisoners ranged from 20 to 70, laboring under all the diseases incidental to this climate. With but few exceptions they have all been treated with this Pill, and astonishing to say treated with this Pill, and astonishing to say during that long period not a solitary death occurred under his treatment. This fact is worth any amount of testimonials.

I am now prepared to fill orders from druggists, merchants and others. All orders sent me shall receive prompt attention. There is no type of FEVER, DYSPEPSIA, DIARRHUEA, DYSENTERY, RHEUMA-TISM, CHOLERA MORBUS, BILLIOUS-NESS and SICK HEADACHE, or other diseases of a Southern climate, but yield readily to this preparation.
